Member Profile ~ Ken and Trish Lee

Owning a '65 Covette fuel injected coupe for over 37 years provided us with many personal rewards. We entered in over 200 competitive shows with the Fuelie Stingray. We called her the "Fuelie".

We sold the Fuelie due to the increasing dollar value of the car. It was worth more than the worry of driving it on the street like we had done for so many years. We hated to put her in jeopardy with others on the street - because we always drive our antique cars.

Owning a Corvette since 1969, we figured the cycle of automotive ownership was very much complete. However, this new antique car came to us! We weren't really looking for another Corvette or any other antique car in particular...but, it happened. So now, we're the proud owners of "Tuxedo" ...a 1965 Corvette coupe. Very little time has been spent to make her road worthy.

Tuxedo had been sitting in a garage and had not been started for many years. It was difficult to tell what the real color was due to the heavy layer of dust on the paint. The present owner didn't really seem to be an automotive or a Corvette enthusiast since he couldn't really say "why" he even purchased the car 25 years earlier. However, the owner before him spent a large sum of money on a full-body restoration.

Not only is it in good mechanical condition, according to data, it's a rare Corvette Stingray. It comes equipped with a 327/ 365 hp engine with 11:1 compression solid lifter. This is where it gets odd because it's equipped with factory air-conditioning making it (1 of 227) produced this way. Other options: 4-speed; power windows; leather; knock-off wheels; and factory side-exhaust.

Sometimes a good classic comes your way...and yes, I guess it was meant to be for us. The only thing is the "Bumble Bee" now has to share garage space with the "Tuxedo"...and only time will tell who will out-sting each other!

President's Message

As I reflect on all our KC Region club activities this past year in 2016 --- I think it has been the best year ever! We've attended so many car shows; cruises; and events that we wonder where did our spring, summer and fall go? Don't despair, your officers still have events planned for you while our cars sleep through winter.

Officer elections (for 2017) will take place at our November meeting held at Paradise Park in Lee's Summit. Our 2017 event planning meeting also takes place on that day beginning at 12:15 - 2:30pm at the Hilton Garden Inn off Valley View Parkway. Please don't be shy about signing up to help out on the national event...there's plenty of areas for you to volunteer your help. It will be a fun, grand event and we look forward to hosting this show for the national AACA organization.

Trish Lee

Congratulations to several AACA-KC Region club members who have been nominated on a national level for "Top Class" awards to be given away at the February 2017 annual meeting in Philadelphia, Pa. It's great to have so many members nominated for these awards!

Again, our activities continue all year with good food and cheer. Don't forget to sign-up for your Christmas party/dinner held on Sunday, December 4, at the Summit Hickory BBQ restaurant in Lee's Summit.

See you at the meeting,

Trish Lee

OTHER RIDES WE LOVE

We are pleased to announce that 5 of our KC Region members have been nominated as a finalist for a National Award.

Let's Do Lunch

Dear AACA-KC Ladies!

Good friends, light fare, and fabulous conversation! We've been having a great time at our "Ladies Luncheons"... as you may know, we have been getting together for a lunch every month. In October we met at the "Olive Garden" in the new Summit Fair Shopping Center in Lee's Summit. At least six of us ladies enjoyed a great lunch and good conversation. It's a great way to get to know new members...and plan for upcoming events that interest the ladies in our club!

Our next lunch date is scheduled for Wednesday, November 9, at an Italian place called "VIVILORE'S" located in Englewood, Missouri. Address: 10815 E. Winner Road Indep., Mo. (816) 836-2222. Time: 12:00 o'clock. Weather permitting we may be able to eat outside in their beautiful courtyard. They have flowers and greenery all over the courtyard which makes for a lovely setting for lunch...if the weather doesn't cooperate we'll be indoors. Don't worry, there's plenty to do inside...you can antique shop up-stairs and enjoy their art gallery. Englewood is just a mile or two from the Independence Square...so, if wanted you can fill-up your entire afternoon with a shopping spree!

Lunch cost ranges from $12 - $22...you can see their menu on-line at their website. If using a credit card...there is a $1 fee or you can use cash. We will have separate checks. Website: www.vivilore.com We hope to see you at the luncheon!

Chevelle Regionals ~ September 25, 2016 ~ "IT WAS A SPECIAL DAY"

Your KC Region was asked to judge the Midwest Chevelle Regional event at Cabella's on September 25, 2016. This was a large (over 150 cars) event and well organized. A 1000 point judging system was optional at this event. A total of 17 cars were judged in this elite system. As a club, we also awarded three of our "Special Recognition" crystal awards. They left a very positive impression on the recipients. Numerous phone calls from Chevelle owners expressed how well our professionalism in judging was received by them and how much they liked receiving the crystal awards. Thanks to all the judges for their sharp detail and participating in this event. We were asked to attend a local Chevelle meeting to show and tell about the AACA-KC Region. It was a special day! Judges were: Dave Field; Brian Wilson; Jon Cooper; Dave Noble; Ken Rothove; and Ken Lee. Special thanks to our tabulators: Donna Field and Dana Noble.

THE AACA LIBRARY

wants your video games

We're happy to announce the start of our home video game collection consisting of vintage auto racing and driving simulator titles. Through collecting electronic racing games, we will ensure the preservation of an important part of our automotive heritage. Such games often featured likenesses or licensed representations of cars that were popular at the time.

We will also use the collection to promote an interest in the old car hobby amongst the younger crowd.

Donations to the collection will be warmly welcomed. In addition to racing games, we are interested in acquiring classic gaming systems, controllers and related accessories. Check your attic, dust off the Atari and spread the word! Contact us at AACALibrary.org or call 717-534-2082

Readin' Writin' and Wrenchin'

By Ken Lee

A Car Club Has It's Rewards

Not having a formal education in mechanical engineering shouldn't keep you from doing a restoration. It really is common sense that will pull you through a major project. The first thing you do is set your goals...plan out assembly dates and a final completion date. The second thing you do is turn-off the tv. I've heard guys talking about a five or ten year restoration, why? This doesn't always involve cash flow. You must be consistent and accomplish something weekly.

One of the best motivations you can get is by taking advice from a like minded hobbyist. This is where AACA comes in. With support, library, and attending events...you are feeding your interest. Another motivation is being acquainted with someone else who has already completed a similar project. Their resources and experiences are very helpful. We as a club have printed local vendors that are old-school and know what kind of service we expect.

Some restoration tasks, like painting may be overwhelming. But, preparing the body is something that you can do yourself. Everything you do will save you money instead of having to pay others. Pay attention to people who do drive their classics. I still communicate with people that question ZDDP as a zinc additive to their oil. They say they don't have it in their engines and don't have any problems. Thing is...they don't drive their classics...it's called garage art. No run - no problems. So again, keeping in contact with people that do drive their classics...can't be stressed enough.

The more you do...the more you learn. Many shop and assembly manuals are available. Staying connected in a car club like AACA - the goals that you set will be met. There are very few hobbies that offer personal rewards as much as automotive restoration. There's nothing better than to drive that classic on it's first outing after "you" have restored it.

Keep turning the wrenches!

Restoration As Therapy for Youth

Permission granted by Hagerty to reprint by Denise Baker - found at Hagerty.com June 14, 2009

When Shiloh was born, his father was completely out of the picture. His mother was unable to care for him on her own, so she put him in an orphanage. Shiloh was adopted by a married couple—only to have them get divorced, and neither parent could take care of him.

So Shiloh developed what's referred to as attachment disorder. That means he didn't want to develop any relationships with anyone, period, because he didn't trust people.

Shiloh was very angry when he was enrolled at the Klingberg Family Center. "He was very angry," said Mark Johnson, Vice President. "He would literally destroy things. He would smash stuff."

But all that changed when a 1914 Model T rolled into the automotive restoration program a year later. Shiloh expressed an interest in the antique automobile, so Mark asked if he wanted to help restore it. Shiloh jumped at the chance.

"It was good therapy, from things being smashed to really taking care of something," Mark said. "I watched him put a tailgate hinge on. He stepped back and looked at his work. I said, 'you take pride in your work, don't you?'"

Shiloh would even come to the shop on Saturdays to spend time with Mark. One Saturday they went out for a lunch break. Mark told Shiloh, "That Model T is a lot like you. Somebody sold it, somebody else let it sit in a field, and somebody else partially restored it. Now it's at Klingberg, and it found its destiny, its great purpose. You've been through the same thing: lived in different places, been passed around, and found your destiny at Klingberg. And you can do anything
